“Music in the Schools”

This project is for 4th/5th grade students

Santa Cruz County Young Audiences, in collaboration with the Tucson Symphony Orchestra presents the 9th year of the “Music in the Schools” project. The Tucson Symphony Orchestra’s education ensembles will provide lecture–demonstration performances for 4th/5th grade elementary school students (districts vary on grade participation) from ALL Santa Cruz County schools – Brass, String, Wind, Percussion

These “Music in the Schools” performances are FREE TO SCC SCHOOLS and are held at the James K. Clark

Performing Arts Center of Nogales High School – districts are only responsible for providing transportation for their students. Students who attend all of the programs will have a good understanding of the parts that form a symphony orchestra.

2005-06 “Music in the Schools” Elementary School Performances

Tuesday, September 13, 2005 – Brass Quintet

Tuesday, October 4, 2005 – String Quintet

Monday, November 7, 2005 – Wind Quintet

Tuesday, January 10, 2006 – Percussion Ensemble

Young Audiences will be contacting each elementary school with the exact time schedule for the 4 educational programs. Please contact Young Audiences at 397-7922 if you have any questions or would like additional information about this great project.

Special thanks to Nogales Unified School District #1 and Nogales High School for the use of the James K. Clark Performing Arts Center.
